Subject:	Worthy Fights by Leon Panetta

Dear Friends,

As many of you know, Secretary Leon Panetta's memoir, "Worthy Fights," will be published on Tuesday, October 7, 2014, by Penguin Press. It is a life-long political and personal memoir detailing the key moments from his extraordinary life — from his youth in California, to his Army service, to his time in the Nixon years, his service in Congress, his work as President Clinton's Budget Director and Chief of Staff, and of course, his time as CIA Director and Secretary of Defense under President Obama. Secretary Panetta was assisted in this project by the extraordinary journalist and writer Jim Newton.

You can pre-order the book here (Amazon) or here (Barnes and Noble).

The Secretary will be speaking and signing books at a number of events in major cities. Here are some places you can catch him:

- New York, Tuesday, October 7, 7:15 pm, at the 92nd Street Y, Book Talk moderated by Andrea Mitchell, followed by book signing. Order tickets here.

- Washington, DC, Tuesday, October 14, 7:00 pm, at 6th and I in conjunction with Politics and Prose, Book Talk moderated by Mike Allen, followed by book signing. Order tickets here.

- Los Angeles, Wednesday, October 15, 7:30 pm, at the Bram Goldsmith Theater, in conjunction with the Wallis and Writers Bloc Conversation Series and the Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts, Book Talk moderated by Jessica Yellin, followed by book signing. Order tickets here.

I hope you can join in one of these events. Please let us know if you have any questions.

Best,

Jeremy Bash
